Halifax Foundation NI

HFNI had initially focused COVID-19 funding on their SMALL and MEDIUM grants, with Large and Special Initiatives grants on hold for now due to the activity based nature of these programmes. They also moved from quarterly to weekly grant making to decrease turnaround time. Due to overwhelming demand, they are now offering a single grants scheme offering grants of up to £5000 for COVID-19 related projects. The aim is to make it easier for charities to access aid quickly to provide vital services during the Covid-19 crisis. Community Foundation for NI: Coronavirus Community Fund

The CFNI's Coronavirus Community Fund is a key NI fund and aims to help constituted groups in NI to deal with the emerging issues of Coronavirus.

NB This fund has been continually widening its focus. This week the priority of "Black, Asian and ethnic minority communities" was added and the fund is now offering grants of up to 10K for the following -

The current focus is to support groups and organisations working with the following communities and issues and that are affected by coronavirus:

Older people (aged over 50)

- Those at increased risk, particularly in relation to poor mental health and wellbeing
- Vulnerable isolated people and families, particularly those living in rural areas, families where a parent/ both parents have lost their employment or where children are living in poverty
- Children and young people's projects, particularly focusing on the voice of young people and connecting through creative mediums.
- Black, Asian and ethnic minority communities

NB Safeguarding guidelines changed on 27/03 to reflect the fact that groups want to respond to immediate COVID-19 issues and may not yet have full adult safeguarding policies and procedures in place.

We want to support community groups working together; particularly in smaller geographical communities. We will therefore encourage a partnership approach, and one application from one lead organisation, rather than a number of separate applications. Groups working with people of all ages and at increased risk as a result of the virus, particularly in relation to poor mental health and wellbeing and vulnerable isolated people, particularly in rural areas will now be eligible to apply for funding. The fund will also continue to support older people and will seek applications for funding of between £1,000 and £10,000.

For organisations providing small scale emergency support, funding of between £1,000 to £2,500 will be available which organisations supporting need on a longer-term basis, and/or who are significantly enhancing their services at this time, can apply for grants of up to £10,000.

With grant sizes of between £1,000 to £10,000, it is the expectation that this funding will support organisations to continue to provide services over the next twelve months enabling both short and longer term impact.

The Foundation will prioritise:

- ✓ Initiatives that directly support those most at risk as a result of the threat of coronavirus, and clearly evidence the need for support
- ✓ Organisations with income levels of below £500,000 per annum
- ✓ Running costs for organisations to provide such support, including volunteer expenses, staff costs, and transport; providing the organisation is focusing their attention on providing support to both existing, and any potential new beneficiaries
- ✓ Small capital costs are eligible, providing the capital item will address the priorities of the fund, and is linked to keeping the older person connected to the outside world.

Arts Council NI - Artists Emergency Programme (AEP)

The Arts Council of Northern Ireland opened a funding programme to support artists and performers during the COVID-19 crisis. The Artists Emergency Programme (AEP), worth £500,000, offers freelance artists, creative practitioners and performers the opportunity to apply for grants of up to £5,000 each.

The Arts Council's National Lottery funding will be used to support the research, design and future presentation of arts events and performances, including resources to help artists develop their creative practice. The AEP fund provides much needed financial support and employment, a lifeline to artists, at a time when the arts sector has been decimated under quarantine conditions, venue and gallery closures, festival and event cancellations and the disappearance of live audiences.

The Arts Council's Artists Emergency Programme is one element of the £1.5m funding package recently announced by Minister Hargey, Department for Communities, to support the arts and wider culture sectors during the current pandemic. Other measures will be rolled out to support arts organisations, libraries and museums in the coming weeks.

The rolling AEP programme will open for applications Monday 27th April, until further notice, for proposals ending March 2021.

The Arts Council will endeavour to have decisions made within two weeks of receipt of proposals. Expression of Interest forms and guidance notes are available at artscouncil-ni.org/funding/scheme/artists-emergency-programme

The Arts Council is working to bring forward the opening of its revised Support for Individual Artists Programme (SIAP) for 2020 to the month of May. This programme is also funded by the National Lottery and will focus on General Arts Awards and commissioning opportunities. The measures involve cash grants direct to charities providing key services during the crisis. As part of the scheme, £360m will be directly allocated by government departments to those charities. Another £370m will go to small local charities, including those delivering food and essential medicines and providing financial advice.
